Fire Prevention Bureau Provided By Commission

Plans Being Made For Improvement On City Owned Property

At the regular City Commission session, on December 22nd, only Commissioners Harris, Richmond and Dooley appeared, as Commissioner Rabin was out of town, and Commissioner Lloyd housed up with a leg disability from an accident.

The Lake Shore Electric Company, which had been awarded the contract for the installing of the public speaking system had it ready for its initial use. There are eight Turner microphone phones, one each for the five commissioners, one for the clerk, city solicitor and one for persons addressing the body, with Bogen amplifiers.

Judge Duran, of Okeechobee, acting as a friend at court, appeared before the Commission, in behalf of the Cone Furniture Co., of Okeechobee, asking for a rebate of $50.00, which his friend had paid some months ago for an occupational license. He asserted that his friend had violated no law, either state or local, and that he had not been compelled to pay a license fee, as the ordinance under which such action was taken was not applicable to his case.

The Judge and Miss Mable Have an Old Timey Xmas Party

(By Hizzoner Ted)

For years the Judge and Miss Mable have spent Christmas in Miami with friends and relatives, and it was Miss Mable's idea that she have Miami spend Christmas with her friends and relatives in the Glades, that is the way it looked when they began pouring in, bag and baggage. However, can't blame them for wanting to come out here for there must be a shortage of water down there for they thought the first thing they wanted to know if I had anything to drink. I DID and THEY DID.

This started Friday at noon and by Saturday morning they had done away with two hogs 25 swamp cabbage 10 gallons of chile and any thing they could get their hands on. By this time they had begun to get the wrinkles out of their stomachs so they could partake of a Christmas dinner, which around any JUDGE they would have been satisfied with the damage they done Friday and Saturday by eating every thing and doing away with 20 eggs of egg-nok with all the trimmings that went with it but they stayed Sunday and Monday and chicken bones, and all I have left to remind me of the party is an empty ice box and a clean party.

I have no idea when the party would be broke up, but one of our so called guest mistook a bottle of high test Gas for something else and filled his tank to capacity, fearing an explosion would follow and not knowing what else to do I screwed a spark plug in him and headed him toward Miami, the crowd followed that goodness and the darn thing broke up. The last report was that he ran two red lights in Hialeah and slid around the corner at 96th at on one foot and headed west, beyond that I don't know.

Sheriff John Kirk Presented Watch By Masonic Lodge

The last week in December is recognized in Masonic circles as the period to commemorate St. John's Day in the Masonic calendar, and on Tuesday night, Belle Glade Lodge No. 273, F. and A. M., conducted such memorial service. The lodge reported however, that the lodge period however, was ended to the annual installation of the new officers. The lodge was presided over by William Brerky Cherry, as installing Master, Frank Anderson, as Marshal, and A. Q. Howell, as Everglades lodge at Pakokee, as Chaplain.

Trailways Eliminate Several Bus Runs

The Trailways Bus Corporation, which took over the Glades Transportation property, several weeks ago, has announced the curtailment of its bus services between the three terminals of West Palm Beach, Ft. Myers and Miami. The early morning bus out of Belle Glade to West Palm Beach has been discontinued, and the bus from West Palm Beach to Belle Glade, Ft. Myers and Miami, which left here at 12:35 P.M., was also eliminated. To get morning service to Miami the route will be into West Palm Beach and then into Miami, though return ticket can be by the old Route 27.

Farm Tour Party Plan Visit To The Experiment Farm

News comes out of Columbus, Ohio, that the Vegetable Growers Association of America is planning a second inspection trip to Florida, to give the state a thorough visit. Members of the Association will make a tour of the state, and from there will make their tour in deluxe Greyhound buses. The schedule place of visit are:

February 21st, Waldo, Hawthorne, Leesburg, Sanford and Orlando.

February 22nd, Winter Garden, Lake Wales, Bartow, Plant City, Bradenton and Tampa.

February 23rd, Clewiston, Belle Glade, Experimental station at Belle Glade, a particular visit spot; spending the night at West Palm Beach.

February 25th, Pompano, Fort Lauderdale with a night stop of Miami. The return trip to Jacksonville will be made up the east coast from Miami, supply group making the trip will be a sizeable one.

The cool weather of the past few days has been of untold benefit to the growing crops, especially to the leaf and root products. Bean movement has been a slow down, and while prices were a bit better on Valentines and Tendergreens, the market for the latter has been slow, and prices not so good, considerably canneries stock was sold. Some bean growers have also asked their fields ready for replanting for the February crop.

Brother Brothers, who like the Grabers, do summer farming in Ohio, have now completed their harvest in the Buckeye state, and are preparing to come back to Belle Glade to work and plant their fields to their accustomed schedule. They did not permit them to continue late harvesting of a bumper crop.

Florida Makes A Good Record On Vegetables.

During the war years, Florida was the state to which the Government looked for its supply of fresh fruit and vegetables, home and service force consumption. Palm Beach County stood high in its production and as long as there was a demand, the state produced in abundance, and was honored twice with the "E" trophy.

The year of 1948 by the Florida Department of Commerce survey says that the state again made a most formidable and impressive record with its various types of produce, which yielded almost 90,000,000, to the growers. This volume was equal to 13 percent of all green vegetables produced in the nation.

The report cites that more Florida snap beans, cucumbers, egg plant, green peppers, escarole and watermelons reached the market in 1948 than from any other market. Tomatoes and cabbage grown in Florida were first in value and second in quantity. Stipulated figures in the report show that the incomes were as follows: Tomatoes, $10,000; map beans, $14,798; celery, $9,391,000; watermelon, $6,382,000; peppers, $6,187,000; cucumbers, $5,706,000; egg plant, $1,345,000; potatoes, $8,777,000; strawberries, $2,003,000; or 99 million dollars in all.

Greater Than Ever Is The Clause For Florida State Fair

The Florida State Fair, which runs for 11 days and 11 nights, the last of the fair will be the greatest in the fair's history. Many improvements costing thousands of dollars, are being made.

New buildings have been added. A covered walk at the end of the fair grounds is being completed, making possible a complete tour of the fair without back-tracking after reaching a read-end, as in former years. Exhibit spaces are being reshuffled and a majority of the exhibitors are completely rebuilding their booths.

One of the major improvements is a new floor show building, which is almost completed. On the west side of the grounds, between the exposition building and the art building, the flower building will be modernistic in design with glass block front, modern ventilation, and the last word in illumination, said P. T. Strieder, general manager of the fair.

Another new building is going up in the livestock section to house swine. This is the first time a separate swine building has been provided at the fair. From the fair visitor's point of view, probably the most appreciated improvement will be covered walk which completely encircles the north end of the grounds, connecting with existing covered walks with the exhibit buildings.

The new walk means visitors can enter at any gate, start in any direction and completely encircle the fair grounds without reaching a dead-end or stopping in the rain. The new section of walk is 512 feet long and will be illuminated.

Strieder said the addition of new buildings will mean the switching of a lot of exhibits. About ten exhibits are expected to enter exhibits at the fair this year in a display sponsored by Pan American Airlines. Also in the Pan American Building will be an exhibit by WFLA, the Tribune's radio station, with a broadcasting booth, from which will emanate regular WFLA programs, in full view of fair visitors.

Virtually every space at the fair, Strieder said, adding that by January 1, he expects not a bit of space to be available. The fair this time will have a total of 389,000 square feet of exhibit space, housed in 28 buildings.

Cadet Tomb Training in Texas

Aviation Cadet Henry T. Lamb, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lamb, Belle Glade, Florida, has successfully completed the first half of the basic phase of Air Force pilot training at Goodfellow Air Force Base, Texas. Having mastered elementary flight maneuvers in the 600 HP North American T-6 type aircraft, Cadet Lamb is now entering a diversified phase of cross-country, acrobatic, and night flying.

A graduate of the Belle Glade High School, Cadet Lamb previously served as an enlistee in the United States Army. He was employed by the Bellanca Aircraft Co. prior to coming to Goodfellow for his tour to start his pilot training.

Upon completion of the 52 week flight program, he will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force and placed on duty with an active Air Force unit.

Still Boosting Route 27

Prospective directors of the recently organized Florida Highway 27 Association along the route from Tallahassee to Miami, are being visited personally by association officers, William P. Langdon, president, has announced. Langdon, who is also president of the local chamber of commerce, said a list of names of civic and business leaders along the 500-mile route had been given to Myron Bretz, who is serving as temporary executive secretary of the association.

Langdon expressed the opinion that the support of this work in Florida would not be as costly as it had been for the Georgia Highway 27 Association, as twenty years of experience in this state will be sponsored by the publicity departments of Florida City and County. Silver Springs, near Ocala, Book Tower Mountain Lake Sanctuary near Lake Wales, and other attractions along the route.

Stuckey Packing House At Cardwell Consumed By Fire

The Stuckey estate packing house at Cardwell was practically destroyed by fire around 8:30 o'clock, last Friday morning. The fire started in the packing house, which was a large building with its contents of supplies and grading machinery.

A workman at the adjoining Vandergriff-Williams plant discovered the fire and passed the alarm. The Fire Departments of Pakokee, Belle Glade and Everglades Fire Control District, all sent equipment to the scene of the blaze, and battled for several hours to control the fire. The building which was around 20 years old, was dry and burned fast, and there was much inflammable stock stored in the place for season shipment purposes, which added to the fierceness of the blaze.

State Bodies Give Profound Study On Flood Control

The determination of the great majority of Floridians to conquer flood and drought in the State has resulted in an unprecedented outlay in support of the $203,000,000 Central and South Florida Control Project. This opinion was expressed here this week by Col. A. G. Matthews, Chief Engineer of the State Division of Water Survey and Research.

It is in direct contrast to the disunity that characterized the discussions in the early days of the attack on the problem, he said.

Matthews reviewed several reasons for the present solidarity among the people. "It's a natural development," he explained. "During the early years of the battle against flood and drought in Florida there were many varying opinions as to just what the basic supply, drainage and water control should be and what was to be the most effective approach to them. Without those discussions we could never have come as far as we have."

The water engineer said the approach to the water control problem in Florida during the past hundred years has been a matter of trial and error. And it is out of all that experience that the present plan has evolved.

That plan has been based on the widest and best engineering experience, he stated. "It is true," Matthews emphasized, "that a large number of far-sighted citizens and engineers in those days visualized the project as it now stands."

He outlined the additional reasons for the current all-Florida unity. The plan will solve the problems of drought, flood, and water control. Upon completion it will produce agricultural, commercial and tax returns that will mean at least an annual increase in tax returns to each county of $50,000.

Moore Haven Gives Liberty for A New Church Project

The Methodist Church membership of the community recently gathered at the Woman's club for two purposes, to enjoy a turkey supper, and to raise funds for a new addition to the present church structure. A goal of $4,000 was sought, and when pledged figures had been computed, to the surprise of everyone, they read $16,500.

Christmas was the occasion for the success, and the object of the present pending Flood and Water Control project of the U. S. Army Engineers. Christmas was the occasion for the success, and the object of the present pending Flood and Water Control project of the U. S. Army Engineers.

Beardsley Must Be Figured In EDD History

When historians get down to compiling data for a history of the Everglades Drainage District, they will of necessity find that the name of James E. Beardsley, of Clewiston, will have to be cited many times.

That plan has been based on the widest and best engineering experience, he stated. "It is true," Matthews emphasized, "that a large number of far-sighted citizens and engineers in those days visualized the project as it now stands."

Pakokee Woman Dies

Mrs. Cora Lee Evans, aged 59, died at her home in Pakokee, on last Saturday. She is survived by her husband, N. D. Evans, two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Singletary, and Mrs. E. L. Garrett, and three brothers, W. A. Humphries, of Port Mayaca and Sam and James of Pakokee. Burial was made at the Ft. Mayaca cemetery.

Fire Destroys Store Building At Bare Beach

The Lake Harbor Fire Department received their baptism of fire this week when called Tuesday noon by a fire at Bare Beach. A two story frame building on State Road No. 50 adjacent to the Bare Beach pump was totally destroyed by fire.

The first floor of the building was used as a grocery and general store by O. L. Ridgell and the second floor was living quarters for the family.

The Clewiston Fire Department also responded. Loss included the building, complete stock the store, household furnishings and personal effects of the Ridgell family.

Identity Party Causes Mixup In Police Court

One of the worst mixups and some of the tallest lying ever told in Jack Johnson's court occurred at the Tuesday night session, when the Brown family provided the personnel of shaming street.

The Clewiston Fire Department also responded. Loss included the building, complete stock the store, household furnishings and personal effects of the Ridgell family.

It was pretty slick for him; then Isaac got into the hoosgow. Evidence showed that all five Brown boys were using the same driver's license, and which ever one had the card at the time, he was the man named on it. It was pretty slick for him; then Isaac got into the hoosgow.

A colored man on the day before Christmas had a goodly sum of money to secure clothing adornment for his wife, but on Christmas morning, he got a rude awakening when he found his wife had cut up the clothing into shreds. In police court he was fined a fine of $25 for his wife's spree.

Ducks, chickens, a line fence and two ugly tempered men were taken in a case in Judge Tedlock's court on Monday night. William Tedlock, an aged negro, charged his neighbor, Nat Culbert, with having assaulted him with a hatchet, by striking him over the head, sending him to the hospital for treatment.

He admitted striking him with his fist but not the weapon. Culbert told the court that he owned ducks, but that Tedlock's chicken also fluttered in at feeding time and were the main beneficiaries of the feeding. Tedlock had put up a low fence with a gate, and that Tedlock had cut up the clothing into shreds.

Observation and Comment

Well, Christmas is past, and from indications things passed off in a satisfactory manner for everyone concerned. Our next duty is to welcome in the New Year, and to make it a pretty good one generally speaking, but what does the New Year hold in store for us? Christmas was a success, and we are successful it is going to require more work of a hard type. Glades people never give up easily, and we know that they will show the usual grit to go along with the progress of the times.

It was pleasant to see the collegiate young people along our streets and mingling in Holiday social events. A bright group of boys and girls to say the least, and some of the military service boys were also home to enjoy furloughs before being assigned to new duties, some of them who were in far off fields of service.

A GRAPETTE Please

The lush, ripe flavor... The delightful aroma... The soft carbonation... Energy-rich dextrose... Quick-chill bottle...

All of these, and more, when you ask for a Grapette!

But remember, there's only one Grapette! Ask for it by name: "A GRAPETTE, Please!"

THIRSTY or NOT
